Appropriation Is Sought For Widening Of El Camino Real South Of City Of Redwood

San Mateo County Board of Supervisors moved, Monday of this week, to support the widening of El Camino Real south of Redwood City after Supervisor James S. James of Burlingame and his successor as county engineer, U. S. Marshall, engaged in a near clash.

The supervisors, at their weekly session, decided to join the central coast counties division of the State Chamber of Commerce in urging the state highway commission to include an appropriation in the 1936-37 biennial budget for the project.

The highway committee, yet to be

City Hall, Library, Parks, Extension Of Water And Fire Alarm Systems Are On Tentative Program

Daly City councilmen have completely outlined a program of local civic improvements which are contemplated to satisfy serious public service needs. During the next six weeks extensive publicity will be given the proposals through which all citizens may become familiar with the program.

CITY HALL

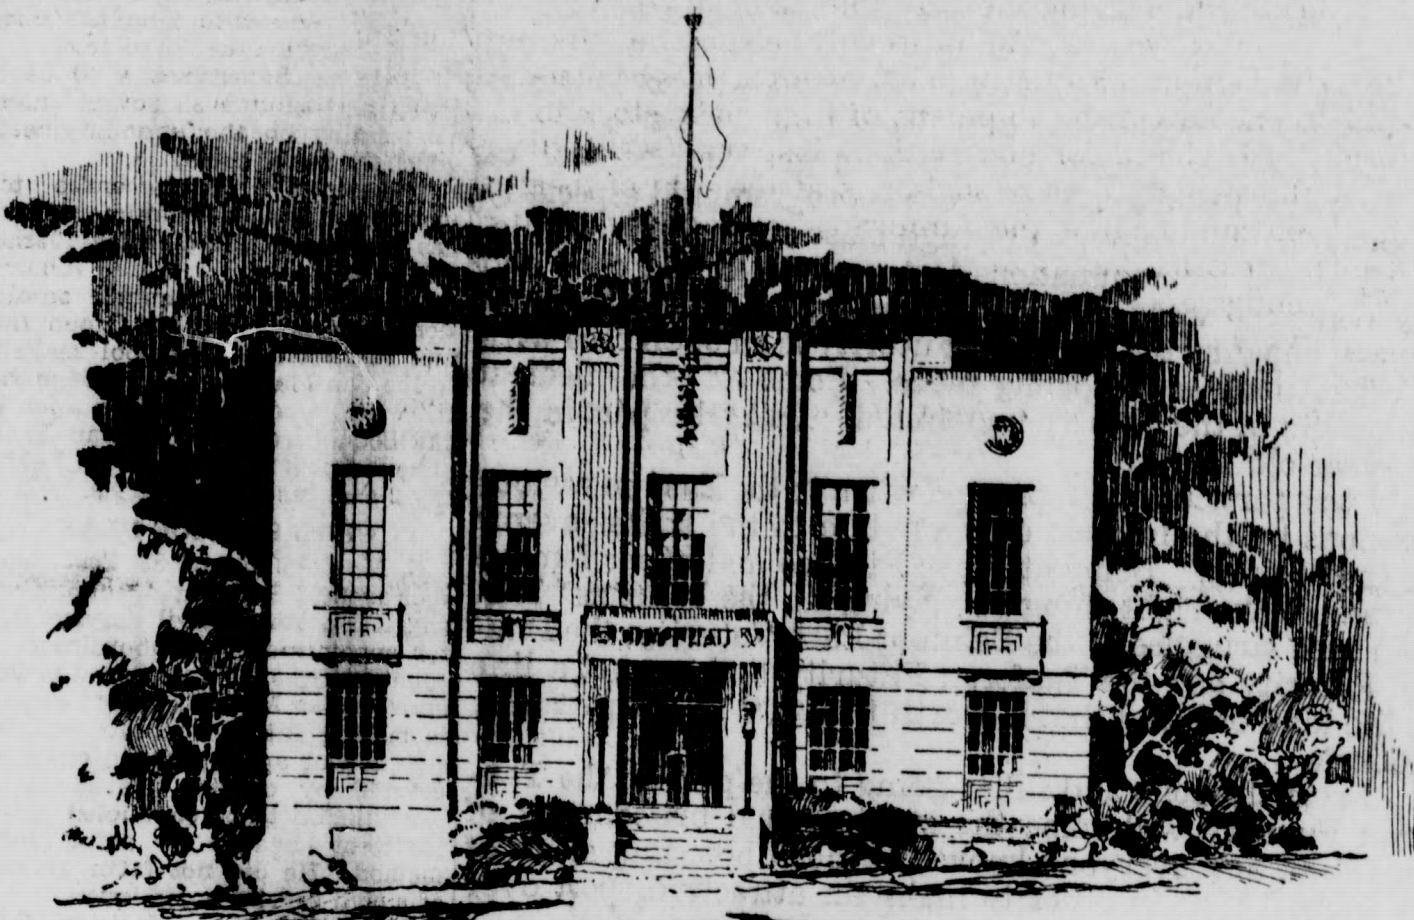

The present city hall which now stands on Wellington avenue was constructed in 1911. The building is antique, and tremendous growth of this community has left city offices with inadequate space to carry out their functions in an efficient manner.

The jail, now housed in the city hall basement, is unsanitary, and the entire structure is a fire hazard, officials state.

Pictured on page one is a front elevation of the proposed new city hall, site for which is the present city property on Wellington avenue and the corner lot at Wellington avenue and Irvington street. A view of the plot plan is also given in detail.

Complete details as to the structure of the new building, its service facilities and cost will be released by The Record next week.

LIBRARY

A new library to be constructed on

Wellington avenue, east of the Catholic Church, is contemplated in conjunction with the city hall erection.

The present library at 6345 Mission street is attempting to serve from two to three times the number of patrons it was originally built to accommodate. Librarians are handicapped for space to shelf books,

PETITIONS OUT FOR NEW D. C. POSTAL OFFICE

Veterans Of Foreign Wars And Merchants Sponsoring Improvement Project

Petitions for a new post office in Daly City to replace the San Francisco branch now in service here are being circulated at business establishments and public centers.

Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, Old Glory Post No. 2044, and the Daly City Merchants Association are sponsoring the postal project. In the immediate future a house to house canvass will be made in order to give every resident an opportunity to sign the petitions.

THE PURPOSE

The purpose in asking Postmaster General Farley for an independent post office in Daly City is three-fold:

1—To give immediate improved postal service and to furnish local civic minded citizens with a lead in an attempt to secure other needed public services such as a telegraph and express office.

2—To aid in building up a local pay roll.

3—To promote the construction of a new post office building which will be of adequate size and appropriate design to serve Daly City needs and

"To provide enough for those who have too little" was the keynote of the inaugural address given by President Roosevelt as he formally opened his second term of office, Wednesday of this week.

To a rain drenched crowd in the capitol plaza the President pointed out imperative needs for directing forces of government to cope with the complexities of modern civilization. "Blind economic forces and blindly selfish men" must be controlled and directed, he declared.

Three Bayshore Deaths Unrecorded

The much publicized record traffic death toll of San Mateo County now stands at 80 instead of 77, a survey conducted by engineers of a major utilities company disclosed late last week.

The three additional deaths, previously never recorded, involved motorists injured on the highways who died in San Francisco hospitals. All were on Bayshore highway and in unincorporated territory.

The survey which brought to light the three additional traffic fatalities was conducted by Engineers William P. Bear and S. M. Michaels of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. None of San Mateo County newspapers, including three dailies, had any record of the deaths.

27 ON BAYSHORE ALONE

The revised figures brought to 27 the number of fatal accidents on Bayshore highway during the year, or an all-time high mark for the "most deadly" highway in California.

The records of County Coroner William Crosby show 13 traffic fatalities for San Mateo County during the year. However, four of the deaths were previously accounted

Ticket Sale Reported To Be Progressing Satisfactorily For Coming Ball

As the final week of ticket sales for the fourth annual President's Birthday Ball at Tanforan Club House, San Bruno, neared, Mayor Paul G. Selmi reported Daly City would be well represented at the county-wide affair.

Assisted by Police Chief James Reardon, Arthur Bodien and W. E. Pitschke, Mayor Selmi has been pushing sale of tickets to the event for the past week with such success that additional tickets were to be mailed by the county central committee in Burlingame before the affair is held next Saturday.

Tickets may be purchased at 75 cents each from any of the above, as well as from prominent merchants and civic leaders. A feature of the ball this year, a $50 door prize, is expected to draw a larger throng than ever has attended a birthday ball in this county.

In addition to the 70 per cent of proceeds from ticket sales for the infantile paralysis fight, centered at Community Hospital, San Mateo, the

Testimony Of Witnesses In Conflict Concerning Exact Cause Of Accident

Officially ending a recent state wide search for the supposed hit run killer of former Police Chief Doyle of Daly City, who was struck down December 19 at Colma, a coroner's jury, Friday of last week, attributed death to a passing street car.

In a four-hour inquest at the W. C. Lasswell mortuary conducted by Coroner William Crosby, the jury returned a verdict that Doyle "came to his death from a skull fracture when struck by a street car."

BASIS OF VERDICT

The jury based its verdict on the nature of the fracture, a three-cornered wound, which it was said could not have been caused from striking the pavement or by an automobile.

The jury also recommended that traffic signal be installed at the fatal intersection, Market and Mission streets.

Conflicting testimony was given by witnesses, chief of which was a written statement from Victor Ber-

FIVE PERSONS ARE HURT SUNDAY IN BAD AUTO CRASH ON BAYSHORE MILE OVER SAN MATEO COUNTY LINE

Head Of Meat Firm Wounded When Machine Strikes Rear Of Parked Car

In the most serious auto accident in San Mateo County last week end which occurred Sunday evening on Bayshore highway five persons were injured, one of them critically.

A car driven by Henry Danz, 58, head of the San Mateo Meat Company at Bayshore and Nineteenth, crashed into a parked car near the Pacific Bone Coal and Fertilizing Company, according to State Patrolmen Walter Sequera and Louis Rinkel, who investigated.

TRANSFERRED HERE

Danz was taken to Mission Emergency Hospital, San Francisco, where he was treated for a possible fractured nose and knee. His wife, Ellen, 54, was treated for a fractured left arm and elbow. Marie Bond, 54, also of San Mateo, was treated for a possible fractured right arm. The trio was transferred to Mills Memorial Hospital after receiving emergency treatment.

Other passengers in the Danz car, William Ford, 54, and his wife, Catherine Ford, 44, of San Francisco, were taken to South San Francisco Hospital.

Ford incurred a compound fracture of the skull and a laceration of the forehead. His wife was nearly scalped as a result of the accident, hospital attendants being required to take numerous stitches to close an ugly scalp wound that extended from ear to ear.

SATURDAY ACCIDENT

Outcome of an accident Saturday night of last week, on Bayshore highway near Brisbane, recorded three persons, including George Haag, 53, 1021 El Camino Real, Burlingame, treated at South San Francisco Hospital. Haag incurred lacerations of the nose and right upper eyelid.

Haag's car was involved in a crash with one driven by Evans Morgan, Loon Lake, Washington. Morgan was treated for a laceration of the right hand and his wife, Emma, 40, sustained lacerations of the nose and upper right eyelid and contusions of the right wrist.

"SURPRISE" BABY

Claire Dodd, former Burlingame High School girl, who is now a screen actress, presented Hollywood with a "surprise" baby boy recently. Miss Dodd, in private life Mrs. J. Milton Strauss, was recently photographed with her three month old baby son, John Michael Strauss. "It has never been a secret," Miss Dodd said, explaining the surprise baby arrival, "but nobody asked us." The five year marriage of Miss Dodd to Strauss was also a secret.

G. G. STRUCTURE SCHEDULED FOR OPENING IN MAY

Spectacular Celebration Has Promise To Reverberate Around The World

The completion next May of the great Golden Gate Bridge, longest suspension span ever constructed, will be the signal for a spectacular four day celebration in San Francisco, which promises to echo around the world.

Sweeping majestically across the San Francisco Golden Gate entrance, through which the Argonauts first glimpsed the land of their golden hopes 88 years ago, this gigantic bridge will be among the most impressively beautiful structures built by man.

The Golden Gate Bridge Fiesta, as the opening celebration will be known, is aimed to eclipse anything of its kind ever seen in the West, and plans already advanced call for a series of brilliant and colorful land, water and aerial pageantry and other activities for four wondrous days and nights.

CARNIVAL SPIRIT

The carnival spirit, so symbolic of early California, will reign supreme during the happy, care-free fiesta, but at the same time the main purpose and reason for the bridge will

Court Rules Charge To Be Manslaughter

Charged with killing of a patron Joseph Rossellini, restaurant proprietor, must appear in court soon to answer a manslaughter booking.

Municipal Judge Thomas Foley made that ruling at a preliminary hearing, this week, after reviewing evidence which led to the reduction of the murder charge on which he was originally arrested.

Angelini was shot and killed New Year's Eve during a quarrel at Rossellini's restaurant.

Testimony at yesterday's hearing had to do with threats allegedly made by Angelini, which defense attorneys said led Rossellini to fear for his life.

ANNOUNCEMENT IS MADE OF RACING STRING SALE

J. W. Marchbank has announced that he will sell all his race horses in training. This action follows the death of Kay Spence, the trainer of the string. The sale will be held at Santa Anita.

In the stable are two year olds, three year olds and four year olds, all bred at the Marchbank breeding establishment, Heather Farm, Contra Costa County, California, numbering twenty-four.

TANFORAN LEADS IN FAR-SEEING PLANS

By J. W. MARCHBANK

Vision alone will bring about the best of conditions for the development of breeding in our state. We must look ahead for years in order to rear thoroughbreds as good as those produced in Kentucky, England, Australia and other centers of the fascinating pastime. We have made a start, but must have harmonious effort among real sportsmen to keep things going the way they should go.

Next year at Tanforan will be run the "first edition" of the Tanforan Futurity. That event is programmed especially to encourage the shipment of high class stock to California.

It closed for nominations last year when the colts and fillies engaged were sucklings at the side of their dams. As you can imagine, the Tanforan Futurity is an open race with no restrictions as to foaling place. Some of the fleetest youngsters in the country undoubtedly will take part in the two year old feature.

I was particularly impressed when in the East on various occasions by the interest of the public in the stakes events for the "babies." Belmont Park, Pimlico and other famous courses do the right thing in playing up the contests. It is from such struggles as the Belmont Park Futurity, the Pimlico Futurity and the Tanforan Futurity that we get a line on the kind of blood that is worth the most in the breeding paddock.

From the colts and fillies going to the post in the Tanforan Futurity will come the stallions and broodmares of the future and everyone knows we need breeding stock of the highest type in order to maintain attractive sport over a period of years.

The Tanforan Futurity is the only early closing stakes in the state open to the world. There are other early closing stakes, also for two year olds, but they are limited to foals of California. It is perfectly proper to have some races for California-breds, but we must never overlook the necessity of providing opportunities for competition between the East and the West.

Charles E. Brossman, who trained the great mare Imp, remarked the other day that up-to-date breeding farms are springing up all over the state, which will eventually bring back the golden days when E. J. ("Lucky") Baldwin, James B. Haggin, Theodore Winters, Porter Ashe, Burns and Waterhouse and others were important factors in American racing.

Scores of other writers are saying the same thing. It behooves us to do everything possible to build up breeding operations, the only firm foundation for racing.

appointed by Chairman Hugh H. Smith of Daly City, will attend a meeting of the state chamber road committee in Salinas next month when plans will be mapped for appearing before the State Highway Commission in behalf of the claims and other projects.

S. M. "IGNORED"
Marshall, in a letter to the supervisors, pointed out that no funds for San Mateo County projects had been included in the highway commission tentative new budget.

San Mateo County, he declared was one of five counties in the state which had been ignored. He urged the board to take forceful action to secure allocations for the El Camino Real widening, extension of Junipero Serra boulevard and completion of the Ocean Shore highway.

Marshall cited statistics to show that on the basis of population San Mateo County should have received an allocation of at least $345,000.

James said he agreed that the board should take action to secure an appropriation from the State Highway Commission, but declared "it would be fatal to base its argument on a population basis."

EXPLAINS PROCEDURE

He stated that funds are allocated on the basis of highway needs rather than in proportion to population.

Marshall's letter to the board, criticizing the highway commission budget, has aroused unfavorable comment, James said. The Burlingame supervisor urged the board to act through the state chamber which at a meeting last week, pledged support to the El Camino Real project.

Supervisor Fred E. Beer of San Carlos, presiding in the absence of Chairman Smith who was ill with a severe cold, upheld James' argument. He said that at the state chamber regional meeting Col. John H. Skeggs, highway department engineer, had declared that appropriations were on the basis of public necessity.

CITES HAZARD

Beer argued that rather than seek an allocation on the grounds of population, the county should take the stand that a hazard will be created with completion of the present work on El Camino Real when a four-lane highway will merge into a two-lane thoroughfare in Redwood City.

Although it may not be possible to secure a million dollar allocation for widening El Camino Real to the Santa Clara County line, the board should seek funds for widening the highway as far as Five Points in the opinion of Beer. It is estimated that improvement would cost approximately $500,000.

Marshall told the board he was aware that appropriations were not made on a population basis but urged them to remember that San Mateo County and four small counties were the only ones among the state's 58 counties that had been omitted in the $27,000,000 program.

TOO "UNANIMOUS"

The board approved James' motion to refer Marshall's report to the highway committee with instructions to attend the highway committee meeting of the state chamber in Salinas.

James voiced objection to Marshall's argument a short time after commenting on the unanimity with which the board acted.

"Sometimes I think we're too unanimous, not a unanimous vote has been cast at this meeting," James said.

The supervisors adopted resolutions annexing the Half Moon Bay and Jefferson high school districts to the San Mateo Junior college district. An election on annexation of the Sequoia and South San Francisco districts will be held on February 2 as a result of protests.

CIVIL SERVICE PLAN

S. M. St. John of 33 East Santa Inez avenue, San Mateo, submitted a suggestion for a civil service plan for appointment of subordinates in county offices. He proposed preference for San Mateo County residents in making future appointments and selection of appointees, in cases not covered by charter provisions, by examination to be conducted by department heads or some other method. He did not favor creation of a civil service commission.

Supervisor James declared there was "some meat" in the suggestion. On his motion action was delayed until appointment of a new county executive.

CONFLICTING STORIES

Berneri said they were hit by an automobile.

His testimony was backed up by Dante Casentini, Daly City, who declared a "car speeding 60 to 65 miles an hour going very fast down the street . . . and hit Doyle with the left fender."

Casentini said the driver immediately "closed his lights" and disappeared in the darkness.

"Doyle's body was knocked over in front of a street car, which was just about to stop," he said.

George W. Wright, Colma, offered a different story, stating "I saw the officer holding an old man, and they stepped back from the machine, and then I saw the street car knock him down and run over him."

John Furch, 58, killed on Mission street, Monday of last week, the inquest determined, died as the result of being struck by an unidentified hit run driver.

TUBERCULOSIS IS DISCUSS SUBJECT OF PTA MEMBERS

Seventeenth District Session Is Addressed by Experts On This Topic

"As P. T. A. members, let us endeavor to make all mothers more 'T. B.-conscious,'" urged Mrs. Elmer L. Miller, Burlingame, president Seventeenth District, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, at the conclusion of talks on "Tuberculosis" given by Dr. Chesley Bush and Dr. William Murphy at the meeting of the county parent teacher group in Burlingame high school, Friday of last week.

Dr. Bush, head of Royal Sanitarium, Alameda, and past president of California State Tuberculosis Association, explained how knowledge of tuberculosis had changed in the past few years. It was formerly thought, he said, that everyone carried the germs of the disease, ready to break into activity when the body became run down. Today, it is known that only about one-third of the people carry these germs and that the disease is not hereditary, but is contracted through long association with an infected person. He described the tuberculin test, which discloses whether or not living tuberculosis germs are in the body.

Dr. Bush showed a film, "Behind the Shadow," and an informative display of charts, pamphlets and books gave members definite help in understanding the disease.

Dr. Murphy, San Mateo, explained the new arrangements for prevention of tuberculosis in San Mateo County, with money from the sale of Christmas seals to be used to give the tuberculin test to high school students, commencing very shortly.

Mrs. C. A. Andrews, San Mateo, director of the Seventeenth District, C. C. P. T., department of health, introduced Doctors Bush and Murphy and later presented her chairmen—Mrs. A. T. Hollingsworth, Colma; Mrs. J. M. Foley, Mrs. T. E. Drisko, San Mateo; and Mrs. Ray Boulton, Millbrae.

Plans for the new San Mateo Junior College were illustrated and discussed by Mrs. L. G. Owen, school trustee San Mateo Union High School and Junior College District, who held that the advantages of a county-wide Junior college are to afford a better education at less cost to taxpayers.

W. T. VanVoris, principal of Burlingame High School, spoke briefly on possibilities of making highways more safe. Community singing was led by Mrs. Alfred Harris, Millbrae.

Opening the afternoon session, Betty Boulton, Eleanor Rankin, Dorothy Fortenberry and Beverly Leggett, girl scouts, gave a first-aid demonstration.

Miss Rena Haig, chief supervising public health nurse, California State Department of Public Health, explained the workings of the Social Security Act, stating that $3,000,000 had been appropriated by the federal government for establishment of public health units in each county. Some of these units have already been established, including one in San Mateo County.

Announcement was made of the change in date for the press luncheon which will be held at Jackson's tea room, Burlingame, Friday, February 5, instead of January 28. Reservations may be made to Mrs. Fred Watts, Burlingame, until February 1.

The next meeting of the district association will be held as Founders Day, February 19, with Mrs. B. C. Clark, Sutter Creek, president of the California Congress, as speaker.

New Annex For Mission Building

C. A. Anderson, owner and building contractor, is constructing a 25x80 reinforced concrete annex to his store building at 6259 Mission street.

When work is finished, about April 1, James E. Donahue, Plymouth dealer now located at 6024 Mission street, will lease Anderson's property. He contemplates opening a show room in the store building and setting up a work shop in the new annex.

Crocker Ex. Board Eats Luncheon

The members of the executive board of Crocker P. T. A. were luncheon guests Tuesday of this week at the home of Mrs. Orvilla Pauw on Hanover street.

After luncheon a business meeting was held.

Plans were completed for the skating party to be given for the graduates of Crocker school, Friday afternoon of this week.

There will be a hot dog sale some day next week, during the noon hour at Crocker School, the day to be announced at the school.

Plans for a card party in the near future were discussed.

Mrs. O. Pauw, president of the unit, will present a ring at the graduation exercises, to be held Thursday evening of this week, to the graduate of Crocker school having the highest scholarship.

Those enjoying Mrs. Pauw's hospitality were Mesdames Julia Jordon, Ethel Dorn, Lillian Cavagnaro, Agnes Anderson, Nell Caine, Virginia Davidson and Nora Clifton.

Chinese Mourners Hold Unique Funeral Rites

"Spirit money" was scattered and servants burned in effigy during the recent mile-long funeral cortege of Mrs. Yick Jung Shee, 76, widow of a pioneer cigar manufacturer, in San Francisco's colorful Chinatown. The noise of five Chinese bands and the aroma of incense attracted thousands who watched the spectacular ritual.

Demise Of Woman After Long Illness

A long illness ended in the death of Mrs. Gertrude Evans, 59, of 44 Willets street, at her home last Sunday.

Mrs. Evans, a native of Webster City, Iowa, held a position as probation officer in Winnebago County, Illinois, for thirteen years prior to her long illness.

Deceased was a member of Rebekah Lodge No. 84, I. O. O. F., of Rockford, Ill., and Auxiliary No. 20, Sons of Union Veterans of the Civil War.

The surviving relatives are Robert Evans and Mrs. Tracy Carpenter, a son and daughter. Funeral services were conducted,

Tuesday afternoon of this week, at 2:30 o'clock, from the mortuary chapel of W. C. Lasswell & Co. Cremation was at Cypress Lawn Cemetery.

Replacing spark plugs will not correct ignition trouble if the insulation on wires from plugs to distributor is not in good condition.

Insulation may appear to be good when closer inspection will reveal cracks permitting spark leaks.

When rubber insulation on ignition wires becomes hard or cracked as a result of heat or age, or if it is oil-soaked, the wires should be replaced.

LAW PROPOSED CREATING STATE INDUSTRY COURT

To Settle Fairly Walkouts And Strikes Is Aim Of New Equity Plan

Hundreds of bills were introduced into the state Assembly and Senate this week, and the Legislature recessed today till March 1.

A chain store tax bill was filed in the lower house. The proposed measure is similar to the one introduced last session and fixes a tax on all chain establishments, including oil stations and theaters.

INDUSTRIAL COURT

Another measure introduced would prevent labor strikes and lockouts by creating a state industrial court with arbitrary powers and the right to call upon all law enforcement agencies, including the national guard, to carry out its decisions.

Author of the measure advocates a court of seven members—three representing employers, three labor and the seventh to be selected by the other six members.

The six members would be appointed by the governor, subject to confirmation of the Senate, and paid a salary of $6,000 yearly.

THEY NEED YOUR HELP

Even the most discouraged among the thousands of children afflicted with infantile paralysis should be able to muster a smile on the evening of January 30, the date of the President's birthday.

In virtually every community throughout the nation people will gather for a celebration in some auditorium or hall, and the money they pay at the box office will go to make it possible for youngsters with twisted legs to walk again.

One thing about this President's birthday ball seems to illustrate that perhaps human nature is fundamentally noble, after all. There were millions, albeit the minority, who did their utmost during the last year to keep Mr. Roosevelt out of office. And yet you may be sure that those who most violently oppose his policies will be well represented at the ball on his birthday.

You would be surprised what miracles surgeons are able to work on warped little bodies. They have been able to lengthen a shriveled leg or arm as much as three inches. They transplant muscles to bring back the use of a limb, straighten out crooked backs, and stabilize ankles and shoulders.

But these operations are expensive, and many underprivileged children cannot afford them. Thus it was that the "ball" idea came about, each community sending 30 per cent of the funds to the national foundation and retaining the remainder for treatment of its own crippled youngsters.

Buy a ticket or two or three, if you can. It may give some child a new chance in life.

TWO KINDS OF GOLD

To many Californians, next Sunday will be just another lull between weeks, interesting chiefly because it is a day of rest. But to those who remember their dates, the day will call up thoughts of the most momentous period in the history of California.

It was on the clear, cold morning of January 24 just 89 years ago that James Marshall discovered gold at Sutter's mill. The find ruined him, for later he died in abject poverty. And it ruined his employer, Sutter, as well. But it made California.

As the historian Hittell put it: "Though that discovery was an accident and not the result of any special merit on his (Marshall's) part, still he was the man who in fact unlocked the great treasure house and opened the door for that tide of immigration which has founded the new empire on the Pacific shores."

Within a year after the discovery the greatest human stampede ever known was under way. By covered wagon they came across the continent, by pack train through the Isthmus of Panama jungles, and by boat around the Horn—wave after wave of sturdy, adventurous men, all lured by the magic word "gold!"

We owe much to those early settlers of '49 and '50. The pioneering spirit of them lives on as the driving force behind the progress of California along a road that leads to another kind of gold.

It is the gold of achievement, of abundance and enlightenment, and the gold of human happiness.

A BIBLE IS BURNED

You may have read recently about the New York pastor who stood before 39 worshippers in his church built to seat 700, picked up a Bible, set fire to it and tossed it, alight, into a tin waste basket, saying, "We apparently have tipped our hats and bowed God out of the door."

Possibly we have, to a degree, but was this the way for the pastor to remind his congregation of it? Perhaps only a theologian has the right to judge, but it would seem that by this very act the pastor took the position of bowing God out the door more vigorously than anyone else.

Few thinking people deny that a revival of religious feeling would be a great boon to the world, but few would condone such methods of trying to bring it about. Sensationalism is always poor taste. And nowhere is it worse taste than in a church.

UNCLE SAM SHOULD PAY

Clearly, the problem of providing transient relief is a federal one. When states individually assume the burden, some states which have numerous citizens wandering over the country get off lightly, while others, even though a greater percentage of their population stays at home, are obliged to carry most of the load.

California, of course, is one of the "others." This state has had 16 per cent of all the transient families receiving relief, although California's population is only 4.7 per cent of that of the nation.

Our Legislature moved the other day to ask Uncle Sam to reimburse us, and to pay for all transient relief hereafter. Uncle Sam should come through.

Pacific Coast Baseball Dean Dies

J. Cal Ewing, dean of Pacific Coast baseball, who recently died at his home in Oakland, Cal. Ewing organized the first Oakland club and was credited with founding the Pacific Coast League. He started his baseball career in 1888 when he was semi-professional player. In 1890 he started the California State League and founded the Coast League in 1903. He sold the Oakland club in 1929 but remained on the executive board almost until his death.

MARCH OF PROGRESS NOT TO BE HALTED

By J. W. MARCHBANK
Pioneer in Frontier Mining Work

Bertrand Russell, one of the best known sociological thinkers of the day, recently made a plea for independence, both in thought and action. Russell himself shows he does what he believes is the right thing without regard to popular trends by not claiming the title of Earl which is his by law. Some people insist on calling him Lord Russell, but he does all his writing under the plain name of Bertrand.

The "group mind" is anathema to Russell. He has the correct opinion that the past has something to teach us and that we should not be so "modern" we throw overboard its lessons completely. He has a particular aversion to the cocksure individual.

Russell's idea is such a good one it is worth while looking into it a bit. As he points out, the belief that fashion should dominate opinion makes thought unnecessary and puts the highest intelligence within the reach of everyone. Nothing more is needed to create the impression one is a brilliant talker than by the flip-pant use of such words as "complex," "bourgeois," "left," and others bandied about freely. He asks pertinently if there is any thought back of such use.

Here is the whole thing in a nutshell:

"The modern-minded man, although he believes profoundly in the wisdom of his period, must be presumed to be very modest about his personal powers. His highest thought is to think first what is about to be thought, to say what is about to be said, and to feel what is about to be felt; he has no wish to think better thoughts than his neighbors, to say things showing more insight, or to have emotions which are not those of some fashionable group, but only to be slightly ahead of others in point of time. Quite deliberately he suppresses what is individual in himself for the sake of the admiration of the crowd."

The attitude of a man having a terrible fear of differing in thought from the majority may be properly termed static; the really progressive thinker may be characterized as dynamic.

We all know that dictatorships are simply the ultimate working out of the "group mind" position. All the people in a country, instead of going about their own affairs in their own individual way, join an all-absorbing group and do not do any thinking at all. That is, they all make motions of thinking the identical things in consonance with the will of the dictator.

Democracy, such as we have been striving to attain in the United States for a long time, is exactly the opposite of a dictatorship. In a democracy, whether it is a domestic problem such as the relations of capital and labor, or an international problem such as free trade, the best thought is given to the subject by all the citizens and when that thought has become crystallized it is enacted into law by the elected representatives of the thinking citizens.

It is easy to see President Roosevelt is on the right track, as a believer in democracy, in encouraging thinking on the part of the people. Social Security, for example, could not have achieved its present well-nigh unanimous approval if it had not been thought out along comprehensive lines by the people before being made part of the law of the land in the federal Congress and in state legislatures. The will of the people, once discovered, must be carried out—in a democracy—by all three branches of the government, the executive, the legislative and the judicial.

On the subject of the power of the courts it may be said that Article 3, Section 2, of the Constitution of the United States, is as follows:

"In all cases affecting ambassadors, other public ministers and consuls, and those in which a state shall be a party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all other cases before mentioned the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction, both as to law and fact, with SUCH EXCEPTIONS and under such regulations as the Congress shall make."

Roosevelt Inaugurated for Second Term of Office

Progress in recovery is obvious, the President said, but the "new order of things" brought about since 1933 means more than that.

FUTURE BRIGHTER

The American people are using new materials of social justice "to erect on the old foundations a more enduring structure for the use of future generations."

Chief Justice Hughes administered the oath of office just prior to the inaugural address. With justices of the Supreme Court in his hearing, Roosevelt spoke again of the Constitution, but said nothing of the courts.

This year marks the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the fundamental charter.

FREEDOM'S BASE

American pioneers used the constitution to establish order out of the chaos which followed the Revolutionary War.

"They created a strong government with powers of united action sufficient then and now to solve problems utterly beyond individual or local solution. A century and a half ago they established the federal government in order to promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to the American people."

"Today we invoke those same powers of government to achieve the same objectives."

The greatest change in recent eventful years was "the change in the moral climate of America," Roosevelt said.

STEADY PROGRESS

"With this change in our moral climate and our rediscovered ability to improve our economic order," he observed, "we have set our feet upon the road of enduring progress."

"Shall we pause now and turn our back upon the road that lies ahead? Shall we call this the promised land?"

"Or shall we continue on our way?"

SPEED CANAL PROJECT

not be overlooked—that of bringing San Francisco closer to its golden outdoor land of opportunity.

The celebration is to be international in scope, for the $35,000,000 bridge will break the last major water barrier to the north of San Francisco and offer a continuous highway between Canada and Mexico via San Francisco and the Redwood Empire along the northern coast of California.

The President of the United States will be asked to attend in person, the president of Mexico will be invited, as will be the governor general of Canada, the lieutenant governor of British Columbia, the governors of every state in the Union and also representatives of every foreign government.

Mayor Angelo J. Rossi has cabled Premier Mussolini of Italy, on behalf of the people of San Francisco, inviting him to stage his proposed Rome to San Francisco aerial flight during the Fiesta.

Another Fiesta idea is to have each maritime nation of the world participate in a mighty naval parade through the Golden Gate and under the bridge into San Francisco harbor as a spectacular feature of the span opening.

Lesson Sermon Of Christian Science

"The Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations." These words from Psalms comprise the Golden Text to be used Sunday, January 24, in all Churches of Christ Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

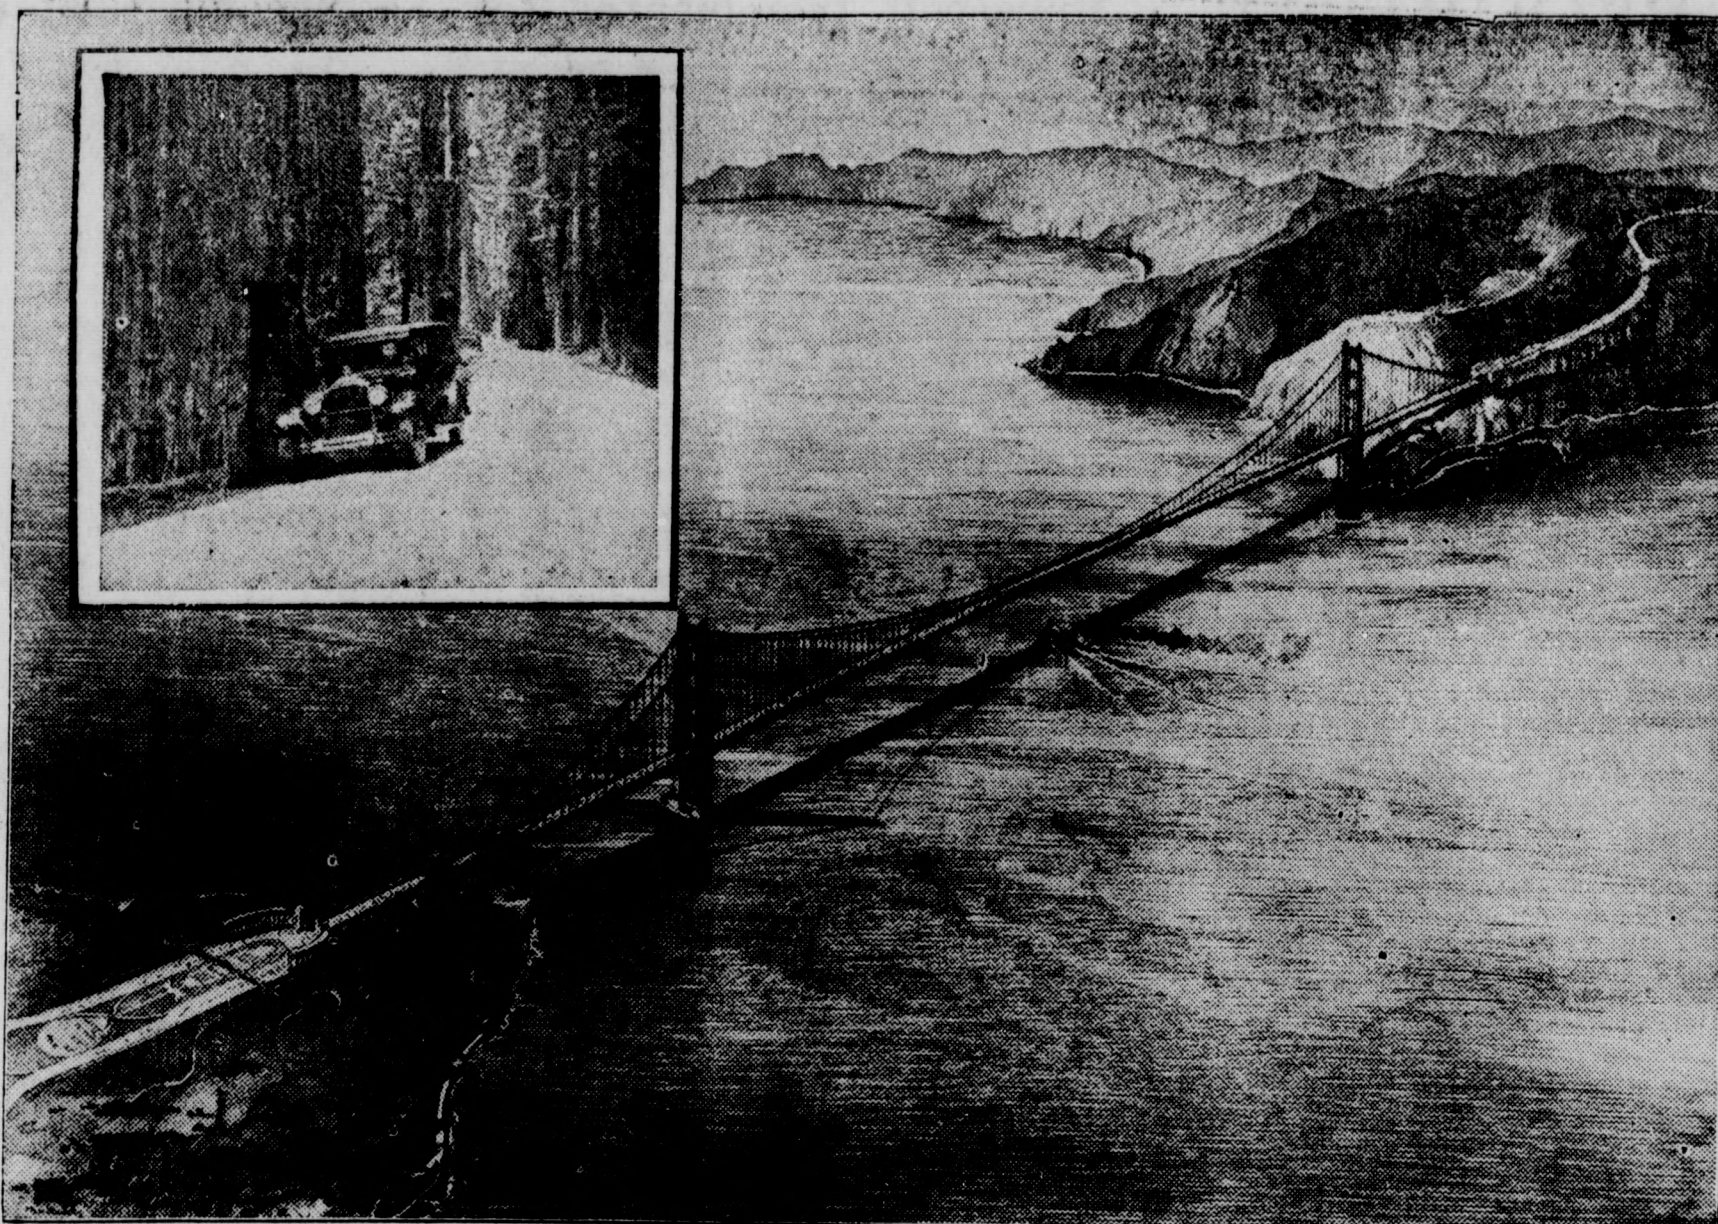

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon will be "Truth." Included among the Scriptural selections will be: 'Because I will publish the name of the Lord: ascribe ye greatness unto our God. He is the Rock, his work is perfect: for all his ways are judgment: a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he' (Deut. 32: 3, 4).

The following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included: "No wisdom is wise but His wisdom; no truth is true, no love is lovely, no life is Life but the divine; no good is, but the good God bestows" (p. 275).

for as one of the victims died after being taken to the Palo Alto Hospital and three others injured in the county died in San Francisco County.

The records of Coroner T. B. W. Leland of San Francisco showed that six persons, hurt in San Mateo County accidents, instead of three, died in San Francisco hospitals.

DEATH DATES TOLD

All of the "new" fatalities occurred on the Bayshore in the short mile stretch between Pacific Bone-Coal Company plant and Brisbane. They were Eibind J. Markussen, Mrs. Lena Graf and Carl Zahl, all of San Francisco.

Markussen was fatally injured on January 31 when his car rolled over near the entrance to the Hansen ranch. Mrs. Graf was fatally hurt when her car collided with a vehicle driven by Charles Maskell, 951 Bayshore highway, Burlingame. The accident took place one-half mile north of Brisbane. Mrs. Graf was taken to the South San Francisco Hospital and was later transferred to a San Francisco hospital where she died several days later. The accident occurred February 24.

March 9, Zahl was fatally injured in a crash on Bayshore opposite the bone yard, less than a half mile from the county line. He also died in a San Francisco hospital, Leland revealed.

The survey by Bear and Michaels is conducted annually in San Mateo County with Bayshore highway being particularly stressed. Records of Coroner Leland were checked yesterday in the final step of the highly accurate survey.

Third Accident In Week On Bayshore

The third accident within a week occurred Tuesday on Bayshore highway near Brisbane.

Four persons suffered cuts and bruises received in the collision between cars driven by George F. Haag, 1021 El Camino Real, Burlingame, and Evan Morgan, Loon Lake, Washington. Treated at South San Francisco Hospital were Mr. and Mrs. Morgan, Tony Belesi, 26, San Francisco, and Haag.

Jefferson High Students In Play

The students of Jefferson Union High School enjoyed a remarkable production about Abraham Lincoln, last Monday morning. Albert Russell's portrayal of Lincoln was excellent, especially in his mannerisms and appearance. The similarity between Russell and the Great Emancipator was astounding.

Four actors ably handled the eight roles, with the lad who portrayed Lincoln's son, Robert, doing a fine job. The role of Mrs. Lincoln was also capably filled.

The opening scene was laid in Springfield, Ill., just as Lincoln was about to depart for Washington to become President. The scene was effectively ended with Lincoln's famous farewell speech to his Springfield friends.

The battlefield at Appomattox was the locale for the second scene, which showed General Grant and his inevitable cigar; young Robert Lincoln and his father, who had come to visit the battlefield near the close of the Civil War. Lincoln's attitude toward war was clearly revealed.

A room at the White House provided the setting for the third scene. Lincoln's kindness toward his fellow men provided the theme for this scene, as he pardoned a young man who had been court martialled. Lincoln not only set him free, but provided transportation back home for both him and his mother.

The last scene was a short tribute to Lincoln given by General Grant, played by Donald Hayes.

After the last curtain, Mr. Russell addressed a few words to those present. He revealed that he was born in Kentucky, only about thirty miles from Lincoln's birthplace, in a small log cabin similar to Lincoln's first home.

Consider Executive Applications Soon

Proposal to hold a preliminary conference to discuss applications for the position of county executive was made at the Board of Supervisors meeting, Monday of this week.

Supervisor James suggested that the board hold the conference prior to the February 1 meeting when applications will come up officially for consideration.

Applications of O. E. Fisher, Santa Cruz railroad executive, and Richard E. Savage of Redwood City, state railroad commission engineer, were filed with seven others at the board session Monday.

The board transacted other business as follows:

Referred to the planning commission the proposal of Cleve F. Shaffer that the Southern Pacific extend its line to the Plan X terminal in San Francisco as a solution to the Peninsula rapid transit problem.

Adopted a resolution purchasing public beach property at Thornton from the Spring Valley company.

Referred to County Health Director Charles C. Gans request of the Brisbane fire district commission for first aid supplies.

Referred to the district attorney planning commission, and Dr. Gans the proposal of Mrs. R. L. McWilliam of Hillsborough for a county health ordinance covering trailers.

Filed a letter from the San Mateo Chamber of Commerce urging continuance of the county publicity department.

Went on record as opposing bills in the state Legislature for centralized road control.

Pioneer Woman Of Daly City Passes

The angel of death ended the long useful life of Mrs. Maria John, 81, of Santa Barbara avenue, Thursday of last week, at the family home.

Mrs. John had been in poor health for some time under the care of her family physician, but was not considered seriously ill.

The pioneer woman reared a family of six children in Daly City, where they have made their home for the past 31 years.

The surviving relatives are her three sons and daughters—William, Charles and Louis John, Mrs. Mary Stoble, Mrs. Dorothy Harbaugh and Mrs. Katherine Hammer.

Funeral services were conducted from the mortuary chapel of W. C. Lasswell & Co. at 1:30 o'clock last Saturday afternoon. Interment in Olivet Memorial Park.

FINED $250

G. C. Bertrand, 46, 677 Huron avenue, San Francisco, who was cited by Daly City police, Tuesday of last week, for allegedly exposing himself indecently in a Theta avenue store was arraigned before Judge Clay and fined $250.

Lights For Bayshore To Be Sought

Assurance came this week from state legislators residing at both terminations of the dangerous Bayshore highway that a bill to light the thoroughfare with non-glare, amber light pouring from centerline midjet standards no higher than normal auto headlights would be introduced soon into the state legislature.

Assemblymen from San Jose and San Francisco are whipping into shape a bill to finance construction of such a lighting system, according to an announcement made recently.

"It will cost somewhere between $250,000 and $500,000 and will be the first of its kind in the United States."

EXTENDED ENTIRE LENGTH
Under present plans the lighting system would extend the entire distance from San Francisco to San Jose, through San Mateo County where 27 persons were fatally hurt in Bayshore highway accidents last year.

"We have long known something should be done to cut down the alarming toll of accidents on the Bayshore," Assemblymen stated. "And we feel adequate highway lighting is a major step in the right direction."

It appeared certain such a bill would be introduced, and that it stood an excellent chance of going through.

START BY MID-SUMMER

In that event, construction would commence probably by mid-summer. Under the plan, in which the motor vehicle department is keenly interested, the Bayshore, one of the major highways of the United States, would become a virtual laboratory for perfecting safe motor travel.

The plan at present is to run a continuous low bulwark down the center, with lights at intervals mounted on standards no higher than the average automobile headlights.

This would flood the highway on both sides with non-glare light, and prove a powerful factor for crash-less driving.

NEW STRIP DIVIDED

The exact type of illumination has not been decided upon, and will depend on a series of conferences with lighting engineers, it was said.

Indicating that state highway engineers are doing their utmost to eliminate the accident hazard on the Bayshore, the new stretch from Lafayette street in Santa Clara to North Thirteenth street on the north edge of San Jose, now under construction, is being divided with a turf strip down the center, providing two separate, two-lane highways.

Engineers said it was the first time such construction had been used on a California highway.

ALPS VS. HIGHWAY

On the same day ten persons were killed by a snowslide in the Swiss Alps, 110 were killed by auto accidents in America. What does this prove about the comparative danger of mountain climbing and traveling along or walking across highways?

EXPECT ANNUAL BIRTHDAY DANCE TO EXCEED ALL PREVIOUS AFFAIRS OF KIND TO BE HELD IN THIS COUNTY

Uptown Terminal Impossible Say S. P.

Blasted this week were the hopes of San Mateo County commuters that a solution to the rapid transit problem might be found through extension of the Third street tracks in San Francisco to another depot near Market street.

Southern Pacific officials have declared the proposal "impossible," Planning Advisor Hugh Pomeroy disclosed in a recent discussion of the issue with the county planning commission.

Right-of-way difficulties and additional barriers created by the approaches to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge make the plan impractical, the officials declared.

REZONING HEARINGS SET

Other matters before the planning commission were concerned chiefly with rezoning.

The planners set February 19 and March 19 as the date for hearings on the zoning of all territory not already zoned and lying between San Francisco Bay and the Skyline boulevard, and from San Mateo and Hillsborough south to the San Mateo County line.

This area, including thousands of acres already under the interim zoning ordinance, will be zoned largely into residential districts, with commercial areas marked off in the communities, and industrial zones laid out along the Bayshore highway, according to Ronald Campbell, of Redwood City, planning commission engineer.

NEW PARK DISCUSSED

First hearing was held on the zoning change in Menlo Oaks, requirements for building sites being raised from 10,000 to 20,000 square feet, and also on the rezoning of the 1000-acre Friendly Acres subdivision from an industrial to a residential area.

The planners went, Wednesday of this week, for a field trip to Memorial Park and the southern end of the coastside district to select a site for a regional county park as a recreational area.

Ravioli Factory Opens On Mission

E. Granucci, new Daly City merchant, today opens a ravioli factory and imported and domestic goods store at 6331 Mission street.

Formerly Granucci operated a store at 338 Clement street, San Francisco.

Ticket Sale Reported To Be Progressing Satisfactorily For Coming Ball

county will get all profits from sale of sandwiches and at the bar Turkey and ham sandwiches will be offered.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Fred Lamb and his stellar orchestra from Redwood City, the committee of mayors in charge of the ball determined to keep the affair "inside San Mateo County as much as possible." A full floor show and entertainment program is also scheduled.

Arrangements for the hall were progressing rapidly under the direction of Mayor William L. Farmer of San Bruno and three Burlingame residents named to aid him. Full support of the county American Legion organization has been pledged to the ball by C. H. Whitney, district commander.

Urging generous support and co-operation by the public in the affair, Mayor C. A. Buck of Burlingame this week issued a public statement in which he declared:

"In our support of the President's annual ball we are contributing to a most worthy humanitarian cause. In so doing we are making it possible to give relief to the many suffering from that dreaded and dangerous disease, infantile paralysis, and the curbing of its spread among the youth of our land.

"In our contributions we should consider it a worthy investment to be thus fortified to meet an emergency that calls for immediate action. Also the very liberal allowance of 70 per cent of the net receipts to be used in our county is a further reason why we should avail ourselves of this opportunity to help others and at the same time help ourselves."

COUNCIL OF D. C. ANNOUNCE SOME IMPROVEMENTS

make displays and arrange their office equipment.

PARKS AND PLAYGROUNDS

Opening of playgrounds in the Crocker Tract and development of the Vista Grand Park between North and South Park avenues are included in the improvement outlines.

To keep children off streets has long been recognized as a problem in Daly City. Development of parks is the solution to the problem, declare city leaders. Playground equipment will be installed when the parks are opened. Tennis courts, baseball and football fields are also contemplated in addition to turf playing space and macadamized skating rinks.

FIRE ALARM AND WATER

Engineers claim that the extension of the city municipal water system into the recently annexed Colma district will not only give residents in that area improved service, but the extension will pay for itself through water sales.

An adequate fire alarm system in the southern portion of the city has long been recognized as a protective measure of great potential value.

FACTS AND FIGURES

Next week the Daly City Record will publish an article on facts and figures, which will lay before local citizens the exact plans of councilmen concerning contemplated improvements and their costs.
